| Presentation Objective   | The objective of this presentation is to help law enforcement leaders understand and develop effective leadership skills in the four key areas of leadership: leaders, followers, culture, and mission.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Presentation Description | Transformational leadership for law enforcement leaders is a seminar designed to understand, assess, and develop leadership in the four key areas of leadership: leaders, followers, culture, and mission. By applying the concepts of transformational leadership to the complex and challenging law enforcement environment, attendees will gain a greater understanding of how their leadership thoughts and actions affect the individual leader, their followers, the culture of their agency, and their law enforcement mission. By linking well-researched principles to individual self-assessments, leaders will be able to identify areas of success and where improvement may be needed with the goal of developing a future-focused leadership mindset and style that benefits the officers they serve, the departments that employ them, the communities that have placed trust in them, and the noble profession they have chosen. |
