Presentation Description	When you transition form Law Enforcement do you want a job, a career, or the RIGHT career? The Right career requires that you know: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• What you really want

- Your gift - your greatest talent
- Who you really are

These are the attributes that will set you apart and describe what you have to offer.

Armed with that knowledge and some training on dress, verbiage and interviewing techniques you will be in the driver's seat in finding your right career.

This presentation touches on all these subjects and more. It is a departure from traditional job hunting and career placement firms which focus on applying only for jobs that are "available". Good companies know they first need to get the right people on the bus, and then get them in the right seats. They will often create positions for the right person. That's how you find the RIGHT career.

Speaker Bio

Thomas J. Gilroy is an author, lecturer, and businessman. He and his wife, Mary, reside in Foxfire Village, N.C. He attended the University of Virginia before being commissioned a Marine Officer. His specialty in the Marines was flying attack helicopters, which is where he received the nickname "TJ."

TJ entered the business world after his Marine Corps career, eventually becoming an executive in the tactical equipment industry. But TJ's real passion is working with people to help them discover the seed of greatness within them. This led him to writing The Holy Hand Grenade and launching The Right Career.org.

Additional Comments

Transitioning from one career to the next can be difficult and fraught with fear. This presentation will quell the fear, give them confidence and help them get what they want.
